

Dear Prospective Business Partner:

Daystar International, Inc. is committed to a safe and secured global supply chain. We support the Customs-Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (C-TPAT) initiative, a voluntary United States Customs and Border Protection business initiative designed to build cooperative relationships to strengthen the global supply chain, national security and continued free flow of international trade. An important facet of the C-TPAT certification and global commitment requires Daystar International, Inc. to identify and validate its business partners that are or plan to be C-TPAT certified. For those business partners not eligible, they must demonstrate a commitment in the global supply chain by meeting the minimum security requirements of the C-TPAT program.

As part of the process we will need the information below to establish a business profile. If your company enters the next step in the process, we will send a Business Partner Questionnaire to verify your security profile.

C-TPAT information can be found on the U.S. Customs and Border Protections' web site at http://www.cbp.gov/xp/cgov/trade/cargo_security/ctpat/ Please take some time to visit the C-TPAT site to better understand the programs initiatives and see if they might be beneficial to your company.
